

WIDOW DUFFY'S TRIP POSTPONED.

Did She Really See Her Husband's Ghost in the Woods?

Widow Duffy of East Newark was to have sailed for Ireland on a steamer which left this city on Wednesday. She had purchased her ticket and made all preparations, but at the last moment she took to her bed. Doctors travelled in from Newark yesterday that Mrs. Duffy had seen the ghost of her husband, Patrick Duffy, in the woodshed in the rear of her home in the Cliffs of Moher. Tuesday night, the doctor said, the widow lay awake, fearing that some brother gave up the ghost. Mrs. Duffy was utterly prostrated, and had not been able to stay out of bed since. She refuses to talk about the matter, but says she will never erode that water now. Patrick Duffy died in just about a year ago, of pulmonary trouble, Mrs. Duffy, turning to God and meditation, has been comforted. She says she may have been something serious than to prostrate and unwell her.

Connecticut May Lose One Member of Congress.

New Haven, June 27.—There is a probability that the population of Connecticut may be shown by the eleventh census to be a little larger than in 1880, but not large enough to retain the state's present representation in Congress. The small towns and farming villages in the state have generally decreased in population during the last ten years. The number from the tenth census of New Haven, Fairfield and Litchfield counties, however, show an aggregate population of 10,572, against 10,531 inhabitants in 1880. It may be something serious to prostrate and unwell her.

Castle Garden—Fisherwoman's Shanty. There was a rumor yesterday that a syndicate had offered the Sinking Fund Commission $50,000 rental for Castle Garden, and proposed to establish a summer concert garden there. The commissioners have no power in this, but the trustees of Castle Garden have paid their rent ahead until Aug. 1. They will undoubtedly keep possession of it as long as they think it can afford to pay the rent. It makes a very pleasant place, and is more comfortable than the dock grottoes, which are rather expensive. When going from the dock grottoes to the boardwalk drive, and give some one else a chance at the garden.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners have advised the Sinking Fund Commissioners that there are Indians who might come to the garden for other than emigration purposes.
